BRIEF HISTORY

Samast Mahajan was created with a vision of Jeev Daya & Environment conservation way back in the year 2002, with the vision given by Pa.Pu.Panyas Shri Chandrashekhar Vijayji Maharaj Saheb to Shri Girish Jayantilal Shah. Since then few others who were contributing in the same direction came together and formed a formal organisation now known as Samast Mahajan.

The organization has been a pioneer in environmental protection, rural development, animal welfare & human service. Having a rich history of disaster management and several rescue operations. Among the honors presented so far are the “Jeev Daya Ratna Award, Indira Priyadarshini Vriksha Mitra Award , Acharya Chanakya Award 2020 by His Excellency the Governor of Maharashtra, Jal Prahari Award by Jal Shakti Mantralay, Government of India, Global NGO Excellence & Leadership Award”.

VISION & MISSION

VISION

Making this world equally liveable for all

MISSION

To save animals & supporting their shelters, rain water harvesting, grassland development, indigenous tree plantation, protecting the environment, accessibility to quality education , promoting organic farming, provide relief to calamity affected people, enhancing livelihoods, ensuring each life values the other and mother nature alike

OUR BELIEF

At Samast Mahajan, we are committed to creating a world where compassion, sustainability, and service drive meaningful change. Our efforts focus on animal welfare, environmental conservation, rural empowerment, and humanitarian aid.

We believe in action over words, ensuring that every initiative positively impacts lives. Through dedicated efforts and community-driven solutions, we strive to build a harmonious and sustainable future for all.

ANIMAL WELFARE

Transforming Cattle Welfare: Our Commitment to Gaushalas & Panjrapoles

Samast Mahajan has played a pivotal role in the establishment, operation, and sustainability of Gaushalas and Panjrapoles across India. With a deep commitment to protecting abandoned, injured, and elderly cattle, the organization has successfully supported over 6,800 Gaushalas, ensuring that these animals receive proper shelter, medical care, and a dignified life.

Recognizing that sustainable animal care requires strong infrastructure and knowledgeable management, Samast Mahajan has gone beyond just establishing shelters. We have provided comprehensive resources, including food, medicines, and veterinary support, to ensure that these facilities function efficiently and compassionately.

In addition to direct support, we have conducted specialized training programs and awareness seminars to equip caretakers, volunteers, and community leaders with the necessary skills and knowledge for effective Gaushala management.

These sessions have covered best practices in animal healthcare, financial planning, fodder management, and overall facility maintenance, benefiting over 10,000 Gaushalas nationwide.

Through continuous efforts, advocacy, and community collaboration, Samast Mahajan is strengthening the cattle welfare ecosystem in India. Our mission is to create a network of well-managed, self-sustaining Gaushalas, where every abandoned or injured animal receives compassionate care, protection, and a peaceful life. With determination and dedication, we continue to expand our reach, uplift communities involved in cattle care, and foster a culture of kindness and respect towards all living beings.

Due to increase in grassland development the problem of cattle entering the personal farms has stopped which has resulted in a big relief to the farmers.

RURAL DEVELOPMENT

🌱 Restoring Nature, One Indigenous Tree at a Time

Vriksharopan Initiative – Samast Mahajan

In the intricate web of life, trees play a crucial role in sustaining our planet. From purifying the air to providing habitats for countless species, trees are at the heart of a healthy, balanced ecosystem. They act as natural carbon sinks, reduce soil erosion, maintain water cycles, and contribute significantly to climate resilience.

At Samast Mahajan, we recognize the urgency of environmental restoration and the power of tree plantation in achieving it. Through our Vriksharopan (Tree Plantation) Initiative, we aim not only to green barren lands but also to empower communities and restore biodiversity.

🌿 Our Mission:

- Expand and protect India's green cover
- Promote biodiversity through the plantation of indigenous species
- Mitigate climate change and enhance ecological balance
- Improve soil fertility and water retention
- Support rural livelihoods by integrating community participation

🌍 Impact in 2022–23:

- 21000+ trees planted across multiple states
- Focused on native and climate-resilient species
- Collaboration with local farmers and village panchayats
- Initiatives linked to watershed development, organic farming, and carbon offsetting

Each sapling planted represents a step towards a sustainable and greener future.

As we move forward, we aim to scale up this initiative, fostering a deep connection between communities and their natural environment—restoring not just trees, but the balance of life itself.

Animal Hospital on Wheel

Be a Voice for the Voiceless

Animal Welfare – Hospital on Wheels | Samast Mahajan

At Samast Mahajan, compassion is not just a principle—it is a way of life. Our unwavering commitment to animal welfare continues to touch countless lives through our innovative and heartfelt initiative: The Animal Hospital on Wheels.

This mobile veterinary service reaches the unreached, delivering urgent medical care, rescue, and rehabilitation to injured, sick, or abandoned animals in urban and rural areas alike. With every ambulance that rolls out, we bring timely relief, kindness, and hope to animals who otherwise would suffer in silence.

🐾 2022-23 Highlights: 15000+

Operated multiple mobile ambulances across districts

Treated thousands of animals including cows, dogs, cats, goats, and all birds

Provided emergency aid, vaccination, sterilization, and post-surgery care

Reached disaster-affected zones during crises

Collaborated with local communities and animal activists for awareness and adoption drives

These efforts are not just about saving lives—they are about fostering a culture where compassion has no boundaries. Each life saved reaffirms our belief that every creature, big or small, deserves dignity, care, and love.

💡 How You Can Help

Support Samast Mahajan and become a part of this life-saving journey. Whether through donations, volunteering, or spreading the word, you can be a voice for the voiceless.

Livelihood Enhancement Project

Empowering Communities, One Livelihood at a Time

At Samast Mahajan, we believe that sustainable development is rooted in the empowerment of individuals and communities. Our multi-pronged approach to livelihood generation has touched thousands of lives, uplifting families and fostering long-term self-reliance across rural India.

1. Supporting Livelihoods through Mobility

Mobility is more than movement—it's a path to progress. Samast Mahajan distributed 101 rickshaws and Ertiga cars to individuals from underprivileged backgrounds. These vehicles are now a source of steady income for beneficiaries, enabling them to offer transportation services, support their families, and break the cycle of poverty with dignity.

2. Women Empowerment through Gaushalas

Rural women are at the heart of community development. Through our Gaushala-based employment program, women are engaged in tasks such as milking cows, maintaining cleanliness, and dairy product processing. The milk is sold in local markets, ensuring both economic independence for women and financial sustainability of Gaushalas.

3. Supporting Teachers, Strengthening Futures

Education thrives when teachers thrive. By funding teacher salaries and school operations, we have created stable employment for educators in remote areas. This initiative not only boosts the quality of education but also empowers teachers to become changemakers in their communities.

4. Grocery & Material Distribution to Rural Businesses

In a bid to revive rural economies, Samast Mahajan has provided grocery kits and essential materials to small shop owners and villagers. This initiative supports local entrepreneurship, fuels micro-economies, and fosters self-sufficiency among low-income families.

5. Clean Gaushalas, Better Livelihoods

A clean environment is essential for both animals and humans. Our cleanliness drive in Gaushalas employs local marginalized laborers, ensuring hygienic shelters for cows while offering consistent employment to those in need. This dual-impact approach enhances both animal welfare and rural livelihoods.

Together, these initiatives reflect Samast Mahajan's unwavering commitment to empowering lives through dignity, opportunity, and sustainability.

Bhojan - Rath

Bhojan Rath: Nourishing Lives, Spreading Hope

At Samast Mahajan, we believe that no one should go to bed hungry. With this belief at the heart of our mission, the Bhojan Rath initiative was born—a mobile meal distribution program that delivers freshly cooked, nutritious food to the most vulnerable segments of society.

—our Bhojan Rath has been a lifeline of compassion, reaching out to the homeless, daily wage earners, migrant workers, elderly citizens, and children in orphanages.

Our Impact at a Glance

During the COVID-19 lockdown, Bhojan Rath operated relentlessly, often feeding over 3,000 people per day, and delivering meals to quarantine centers, hospitals, and construction sites where workers were stranded.

Stories of Change

In Mumbai, an elderly couple surviving on alms found hope again through regular Bhojan Rath visits.

In tribal areas of Palghar, children who had dropped out of school due to hunger were nourished back to health.

During floods in rural Maharashtra, Bhojan Rath was among the first to reach stranded villagers with warm meals.

Looking Ahead

Our vision for Bhojan Rath is to expand its reach across more regions, establish more mobile kitchen units, and integrate nutritional education into our community outreach. Hunger is not just a lack of food—it's a barrier to health, education, and dignity. Samast Mahajan is committed to breaking this barrier, one meal at a time.

प्रधान मंत्री
Prime Minister

Shri Girish Jayantilal Shah Ji,

Heartfelt gratitude for the support expressed through your letter to the Government's decision on the construction of Taranga Hill-Ambaji-Abu Road railway line.

The decision fulfils a long-standing demand of the people of the region, who had been waiting for several decades for the construction of this railway line. The rail project facilitates ease of travel for millions of devotees, who throng to these spiritual destinations to seek the blessings of Bhagwan Ajitnath and Maa Ambaji.

Today, India is marching ahead with confidence on the path of progress. The speed and scale of infrastructure development reflect our firm commitment towards fulfilling people's aspirations.

Our ethos has always promoted the principle of living in harmony with nature. Through holistic efforts, we are focused towards preserving our heritage and ensuring holistic development of our pilgrimage spots and tourism hubs.

The railway line will spur a new phase of growth in the region. It will usher in economic prosperity for the local people.

Through this letter, I make a special appeal to you to contribute towards enhancing the greenery of the area around you by planting as many saplings as possible and also encourage other people to do the same. Your contribution will go a long way in maintaining a balance between environment and development.

With the confidence that the Taranga Hill-Ambaji-Abu Road railway line will prove to be a momentous step for the region's spiritual, social and economic development, I once again thank you for writing to me.
